In Dedication

Portrait of an inspiration.

A common activity of Mrs. Sleeper, grading the tests and quizzes of the day.

Takes time out to go over a test.

Even through all her paper work Magistra Sleeper can give us a smile.

The Hornet Staff feels that by dedicating this book to Mrs. Sleeper we can show how much we appreciate all that she has done for the school. Students who have had Mrs. Sleeper for Latin or Classics Seminar must all agree that her enthusiasm and endless energy are projected in all she does.

After attending Radcliffe College, where she received a double major in both French and Latin, she went on to attain her pilot's license, and became an air traffic controller. Later, she married and raised six children.

Mrs. Sleeper has been teaching for eighteen years, eleven of which were at Herndon. In addition she has taught night school at NOVA, and has frequently traveled to other regions to speak and participate in seminars.

Each year students look forward to her educational trips to various foreign countries. Previous trips have included places such as England, France, and Italy.

Her efforts have also been noticed at the State level. Last year she was Virginia's Foreign Language Teacher of the Year, and is currently the President of the Classical Association of Virginia.

Once again, we would like to thank Mrs. Sleeper for all the time and support she has given to her students and to the school.

Mrs. Sleeper keeps the apples she receives from her students in plastic bags to keep them fresh.

Where it all comes together

While searching for a yearbook theme one asks oneself, what is unique to the school. For some schools it would mean the gym roof collapsing or a new addition to the building. Well, what's unique about Herndon?

We are one of the few public schools in the county with such a vast variety of social and ethnic groups, we also have a main Intersection, through which almost every student passes. At times it seems as though everyone has chosen to take the route that passes through the main intersection. From this evolves our theme.

This is where it all comes together. Whether black or white, rich or poor, we all rub shoulders with one another in the process of reaching our various destinations. This idea can be expanded to represent our entire school, in other words a community within a community. Not only do we represent various backgrounds, but we have different beliefs and values. Our school is like these United States. A melting pot of people. It is from this that we draw our unique strength and spirit. In a sense "our community" reflects the society around us.

We go together . . .

"Get me a freshman; my man will take him on," says manager Ricky Williams of his client Chris Forrest. Much joking around goes on in the main intersection.

Watch out Robin, when Sheila Stone thinks she's right nothing stands in her way! Louis Feraca continues working and ignores the whole conversation.

Even Lisa Hilt, the senior class president, gets stuck in the main intersection.

Not watching where he's going, but keeping his eye on a beautiful girl, Matt Sevcik makes his way down the hall.

One of the advantages of being in the group is that you get to snack more often than the rest of the student body: as Barbara Saunders and her friends demonstrate.

An Early Start!

The varsity team works out under the summer sun in preparation for the season ahead.

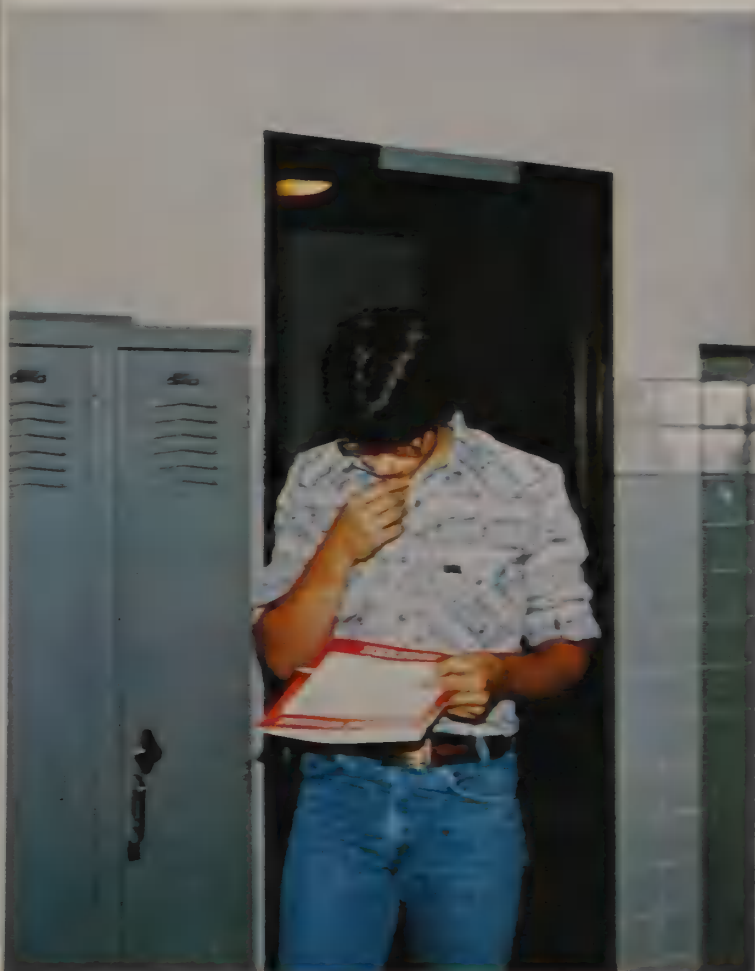

The unbroken and tranquil scene of the line of scrimmage will soon be where all the action is.

Vickie Haynie hustles to take over the ball during summer practice.

"New Arrivals."

As my alarm jolted me back to reality, I suddenly realized that the summer was over. It was time for a change, for now I was a freshman.

I boarded the bus that would take me to my new home, and sat patiently, awaiting our arrival. A thousand thoughts filled my head; my parents' advice about keeping up my grades, my new high school status . . . What terrified me more though, were the stories my older brother had told me about cruel seniors, the traffic jams in the main intersection, swirlies and swimming lessons. Butterflies flew around my stomach and my knees turned to jello as we neared the school.

I thought it rather ironic that a graveyard should be so close. My nervousness soon passed when I saw all my friends from intermediate school. Everyone seemed so excited. We compared schedules and admired each other's tans while the administrators tried to herd us down to the auditorium.

Eventually, everyone quieted down and the assembly got under way. We were introduced to all our counselors and administrators and then Mr. Price gave us our official welcome. He looked like a nice guy. He also explained to us that in order to succeed you have to work hard, and really get involved in school (i.e., extra-curricular activities). Next were the cheerleaders! Boy, were they good. Finally, the SGA president, Irwin Rappaport, gave his speech.

Going in small groups, we wandered the halls in search of our classrooms. When we finally did find them, our teachers told us what to expect and what supplies we would need. Every teacher wants a different kind of notebook, folder, pen or pencil. I never knew school was so expensive.

On the way home, all I could think about was the first day of school. I have to admit, I am still a little nervous, but I guess high school really is not as bad as I had imagined. I just wish I had another month to get ready for it!

Lost now, but soon this freshman will know where he is going.

The freshmen cheerleaders make their debut while welcoming the class of '85 to Herndon High School.

"Which way do I go?" A confused freshman asks Mr. Maness for directions.

Preparations for Homecoming

After a visit with Keg Man, alias Jeb Livingood, Mark Arness one of the many nerds, has a little trouble seeing.

A tribute to animation was announced as the Homecoming theme and soon after the imaginations of many students were geared towards putting together a suitable costume. Freshmen were to dress as superheros, Sophomores as storybook characters and Juniors as characters from cartoons. Few lower classmen chose to participate on their respective dressdown days. Several super bunnies, togas and Minnie-Mickey mouse costumes did appear though. The togas appeared perhaps as a sign of defiance on the part of the juniors as their plans for a toga related theme were thwarted.

Students arrived at school Thursday morning with an air of expectancy, waiting to see how the class of '82 would show it's spirit. As tradition dictates, Seniors were free to come as they wish, so the costumes ranged from everyday school clothes to the fantastic.

Punk rockers accompanied by sound effects (Adam and the Ants), space patrols with lasor guns, killer bees, and the squadron of tough female fighter pilots were some of the groups roaming the halls.

Matt Kell and his extra appendages frightened people when they suddenly had four orange day-glo hands dangling in their faces. Kevin Kaupish's costume was his concoction for the underclassmen of a "Super Senior" and Mike Ciccolini in his surgeon's scrub outfit expressed his possible future goals.

The excitement of the week was not over on Friday, there was the pep rally to look forward to and the admiration of the legs of the nine male cheerleaders for the Powder Puff game. That afternoon, students and faculty filled the bleachers for the Homecoming pep rally. The usual activities took place; class competitions, a drill team performance and cheers done by the cheerleaders.

To end the pep rally seniors won the spirit chain competition, outdoing themselves with a chain more than twice the length of any of the other class chains. — And the rather "unique" cheer done by the overly voluptuous Powder Puff cheerleaders!

At 12 it turns back into a pumpkin. The cafeteria decorated for the Homecoming festivities.

200,000 votes? Don't think that's right Kathy, why don't you try again? Matt Kell, Kathy Hidalgo, Kimberly Martin, Gail White, and Irwin Rappaport count the votes for the Homecoming Court.

Ready for the next mission, Star Patrol officers Karen Tressler and Sandy Wist. "Do we have to march around the school again?!" complains Cheryl Lopez during Homecoming Parade practice.

The stands were full for the Homecoming pep rally.

Mice left over from a senior prank? No, it's Cathy Burrell and Mari Herkert on Junior Dress down day.

"Hey cutie!", whispers Ellen Martins.

Homecoming Queen for 1981.....TAMI MASTERS!

The Fighting Hornets run through the Cheerleaders' banner before the start of the game.

Barely had the second week of school begun and we were already making plans for Homecoming. The long awaited day finally arrived, a culmination of hours of preparation. The annual Homecoming Parade kicked off the beautiful day with floats, marching band, drill team, cheerleaders, and of course, our Homecoming princesses. Not only was it a thrill to see how the carefully guarded class floats turned out, but also to see all those people who had graduated and that guy or girl that you always had a crush on.

Crowds lined the streets and people milled about looking at the various crafts displayed in front of the town hall. The entire parade route stretched approximately three miles, starting at the Herndon bakery and ending near the intersection of Elden St. and Van Buren.

Herndon's various clubs and organizations entered floats and candidates running for local office rode in the parade. Representing the school's four classes were the floats which were being constructed weeks ahead.

As their monument to animation, the senior class built Snoopy's doghouse with Snoopy and Woodstock on top, and a rainbow overhead (probably Mel's idea!). The junior class presented their version of the Pink Panther (minus EARS!). The sophomores, who won the float competition, produced a huge Superman, flying with a football over a field of battered opponent football players. The freshmen, showing great class spirit and organization, displayed a Tweetie bird.

Later that day, record crowds gathered at J.L. Griffiths Stadium to watch the Hornets hush the Highlanders. The visitors' bleachers had been miraculously reassembled after having been dismantled that morning by several spirited seniors, costing the senior class $800.

Herndon's defense was superb and was never threatened by McLean. Two of the four touchdowns were scored in the last minute of the third quarter. We won our fifth straight Homecoming, McLean with a score of 28-0.

During half time, the marching band performed it's award winning show and the drill team did a routine to "Rockin' into the Night". The most awaited half time event finally arrived with the announcing of the Homecoming Court. The freshmen princesses were Leslie Faulkes and Kim Kahua; Sophomores: Janice Bergoffen, Shelly Slack and Kim Titus; Juniors: Madelene Gordon, Angie Grayson, Anne Hilty and Kerri McGovern; Seniors: Staci Baker, Kelli Barrett, Monica Lambdin, Tami Masters, Wendy Pilette and Mel Smith. Last year's Homecoming Queen, Beth Poland, returned to crown Tami Masters the 1981-82 Queen, with Wendy Pilette voted Maid of Honor.

That evening, the Court members and their escorts arrived at the dance which was held in the cafeteria.

Throughout the evening, people socialized and danced to the music played by disc jockey John Brackett.

After a long day filled with excitement and festivities, many had collected memories that they would be able to reminisce over and joke about with friends for months to come.

In the air! Quarterback Chuck Moore throws for another completion.

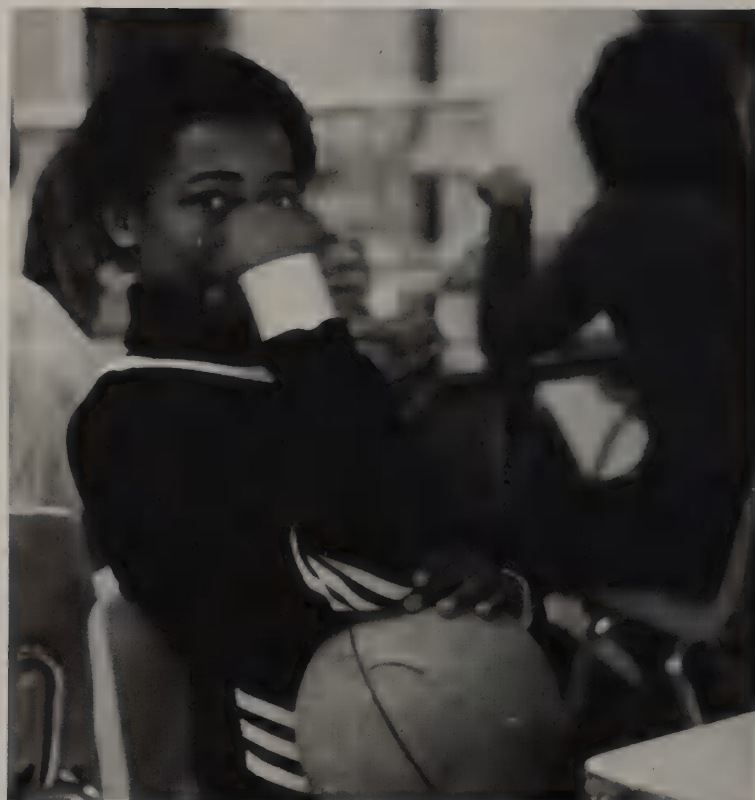

Food for Thought

Lunch is the only time during the day that students can relax without having to do anything.

Mr. Maness shrouds his departed lunch

Albert Braithwaite contemplates buying lunch.

The lunch bell rings. One hears the massive stomping of what sounds like twenty herds of elephants coming down the hall. Students heading toward the cafeteria.

Freshmen run for the lines as upperclassmen calmly put down their books at "their" tables. The shrewder underclassmen hand all their belongings to one person, who strategically places these objects at the tables so as to save as many seats as possible and avoid being caught in the line of fire of the nearest food fight.

Many students solve the problem of having to run for a place in line by bringing a lunch from home. Those that either do not have the time or are too lazy to prepare one face the dilemma of what to spend their hard-earned cash on, knowing full well that whatever it turns out to be, they will have to eat it so fast their tastebuds won't know what hit them anyway.

The din in the cafeteria is deafening. People get louder and louder in an attempt to be heard over the raucous screams of people who have just had cold food thrown at them.

After eating, students have the option of taking their trays up to a group of bored looking jocks who will give a dime in exchange for it. At long last, the five minute warning bell rings and soon the cafeteria is left empty, looking like a pig sty, with the usual remains of food, trays, spoons, napkins, etc. The last bell rings and lunch is over for the day.

Melissa Dongieux is smarter than the rest; she brings her lunch!

Is it absolutely necessary for me to eat this? Ponders Angie Sandridge, during B lunch.

"Should we wait or just go to McDonald's?" asks Nancy Dailey of Matt Kell.

WAIT!!!

Students greet Jason Knapp before school.

WAIT!!! A word often used by students running after their bus. The frantic yell is usually a wasted effort as the driver can't hear you over the laughter of those in the back seats.

A favorite tactic of the tardy unfortunate is to chase the bus while waving his arms and jumping up and down, but this almost always results in spilled books and isn't worth the social suicide inherent in the act.

The first stop of a bus' route is the best. Those picked up there have the best selection of seats. Those waiting at the last stop are left wondering if they will find a place to sit at all, which results in a crushing rush for the door as the bus pulls up.

A somewhat interesting experience is waiting for the bus each morning. Everyone just stands around in a half-asleep stupor wondering whether or not it would seem appropriate to say anything. After the bus arrives and all are aboard, conversation quickly develops and by the time the bus reaches school, everybody is in an alert state of depression.

This year, even going home can be trying due to the change in bus routes and the reduction in the number of stops, forcing students to walk a longer distance than in past years.

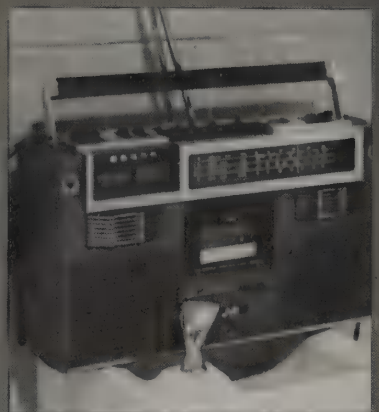

Winter is usually the worst time for bus riders. Standing near the snowbanks they are unable to do anything but watch their crystalizing breath, wondering whether or not they will be able to move their paralyzed limbs when the bus finally arrives. They then board the bus with the knowledge that the seats will be like ice, the heater broken and most of the windows will be frozen open.

Once again the year has passed with the stalwart riders of the busses braving all that nature and inconvenient schedules could throw at them. Riders, whose one salvation is knowing that the time will come when they will be able to drive themselves to school.

Students flock to their buses.

STUDENT LIFE

Upperclassmen celebrate their victory!

Dea Ailsworth helps out the Powder Puff cheerleaders with a cheer.

The Powder Puff football game is always the night before Homecoming and it is at this time that a strange metamorphosis takes place. What were once the sweet little girls of the school, become rough and tough football players. There are of course, two teams; the Freshmen and Sophomores vs. the Junior/Senior team.

But wait! How could this event be complete without the Powder Puff Cheerleaders. For those ignorant of this interesting custom, this is where several brave young gentlemen don short skirts and tight sweaters, stuff themselves with balloons which are so full of air they are about to burst and attempt to lead the fans on . . . in a barage of cheers!

As in past years, the upperclassmen beat out the Freshmen/Sophomore team. The score? 14-7!!

Back on Black . . Top!

As students at Herndon grow older, for many the daily routine of bussing to and from school loses its appeal. Upon reaching their 16th birthday, a small group of those students achieve a much wished for goal; owning (or having access to) a car.

The first step taken by these new drivers is to buy parking permits from the school in order to be allowed to park in the lots behind the building. Once this is done they can drive to school without having to worry about the availability of a parking space (or having their cars towed), unlike those who choose to park along the street across the front lawn.

The parking lots have other advantages. They provide large drag fields just right for revving engines and attracting the attention of everyone from the rear of the school to the playing fields, be it by a sudden rubber burning acceleration or a slow, showy cruise. They furnish a social gathering place for drivers and their friends in the morning when everyone sits in their cars with the stereo cranked up looking around to see who drove to school. The parking lot also provides a take off point for many of those off campus excursions to McDonalds or the Deli.

Driving to school is not just an alternative to bussing or a necessity due to an afternoon job, but it is also a symbol of prestige and independence for students.

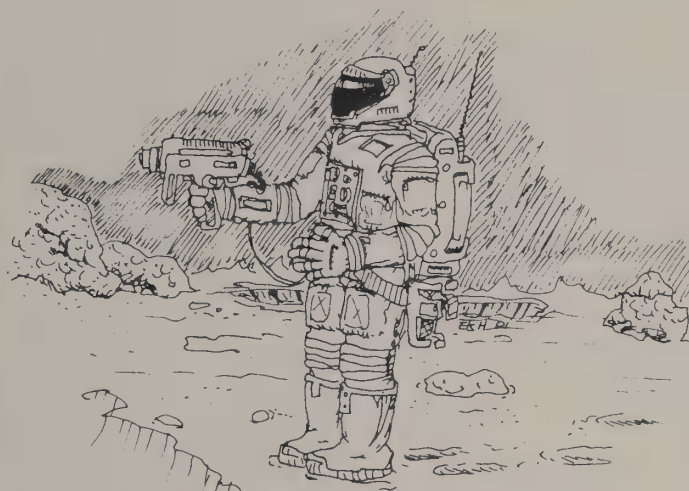

Dead Bug!

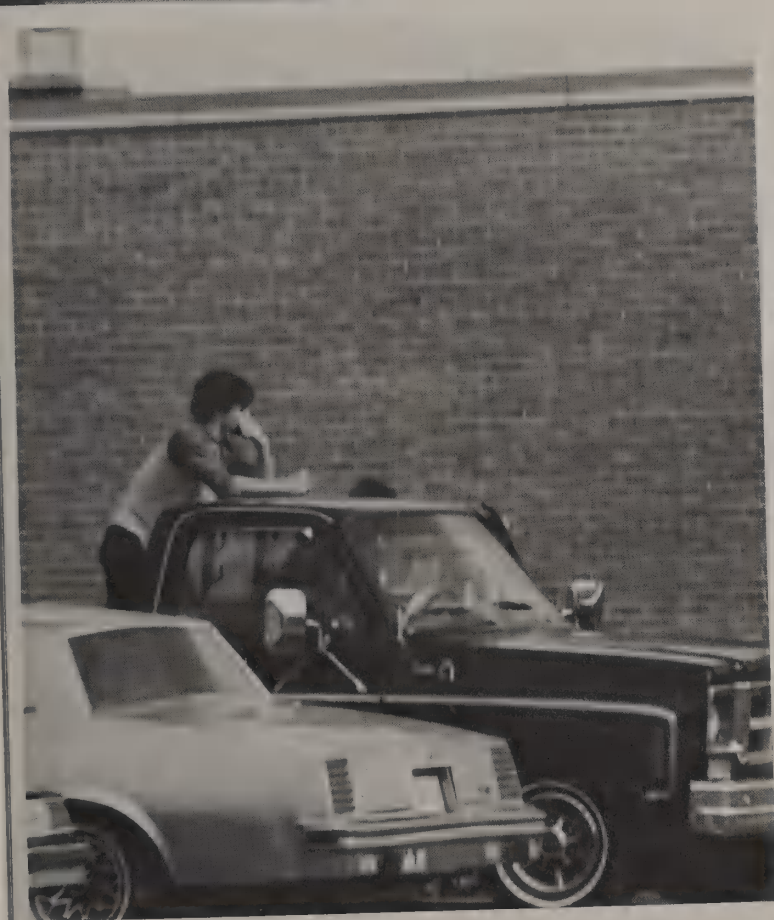

Though a windy day, Shannon Staufer and friends will attend the pep rally.

David Ray's 'commuter bus' unloads its cargo of people. Bumping a ride to school is a major pastime of many students.

CRAMMING

Keith Dixon tests the aerodynamics of his book.

At one time or another everyone has had the experience of sitting down to study with the realization that they have a test the next day concerning something that they know virtually nothing about. No matter how many times this situation has occurred, this test is inevitably the most important test you have ever had to take. It is for this reason and this reason alone that you pull out your notes, open your book and cram. Your mind becomes a steel trap, which is unfortunately shut. The words, that when read singly made so much sense, become an unintelligible jumble of syllables when forced into sentences and paragraphs. Then the dog barks, the phone rings, someone knocks on the door, you need a drink of water, your back gets a kink in it, the cat decides to take a nap on your book, you get a headache and you have to go to the bathroom all at once.

You finally settle down, loaded full of coffee and unable to sleep even if you wanted to. You sink into your book and start absorbing the totally consequential information it contains. The once incomprehensible sentences flow smoothly into your memory without a hitch. The real world fades away. The process of cramming is in full swing. The same information has circled through your brain countless times. You have been "almost done" for four hours. Your eyes can no longer read the clock, not to mention the book. Your hands decide of their own accord that you are finished. The book closes, your feet throw you onto the bed and without another thought you fall asleep until the alarm goes off.

The best thing about cramming is that when you flunk the test the next day, you are so tired that you don't care!

After many long hours of experimentation, Kurt Knoerl has finally perfected the art of sleeping and studying simultaneously.

ZZZZZZ ...

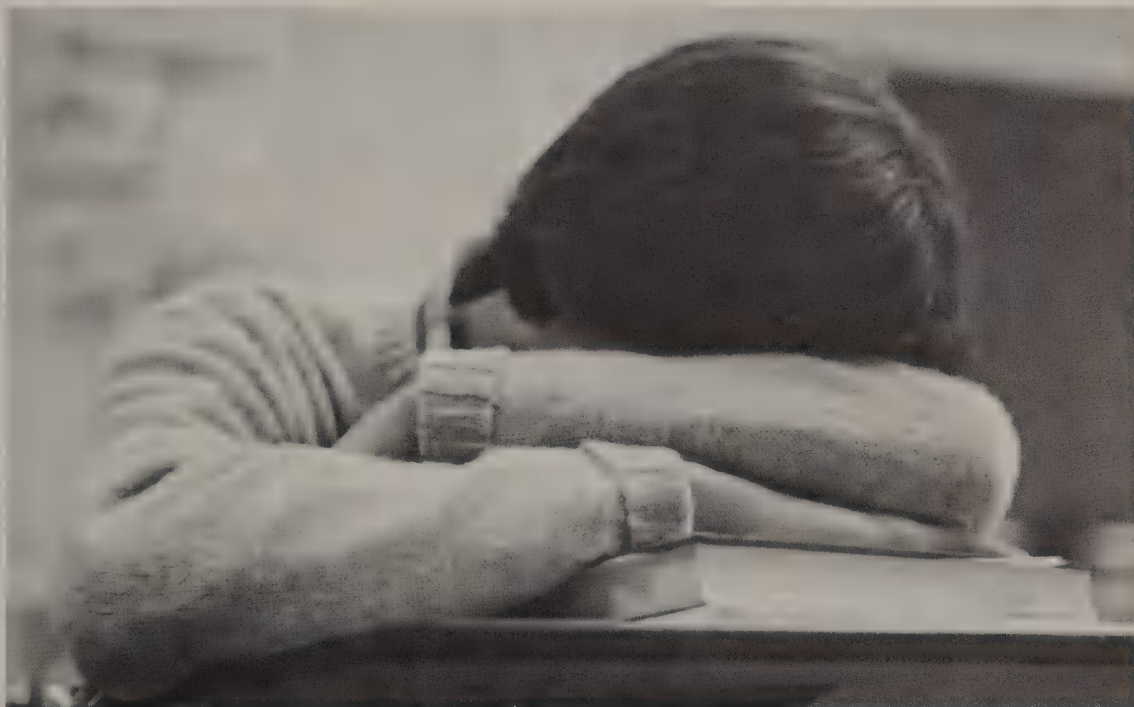

Snoring away, Bud Wolf suffers from a case of senior-itis.

We would like to take time out to say a few words about sleeping; a vital part of school life. Mastering the art of maintaining an even balance between work, play and sleep is not a subject to be taken lightly. Often, the best time to catch up on those needed ZZZ's is during class. Once the art has been perfected it takes little or no effort to make maximum use of those precious minutes. Several factors contributing to this epidemic of slumbering during class may include being a participant in four or more extracurricular activities, studying for three tests or just partying late.

Avid sleepers can be found casually sprawled out or snugly curled up in their desks. Some students who seem to be attentively watching the board have further advanced sleeping techniques by teaching themselves how to sleep with their eyes open. (How they actually do this has not yet been disclosed).

Although science has been doing research on sleep for many years, students everywhere could have told them the benefits and how-to's of slumber as this state of being has been second nature to them since kindergarten and "nap-time".

Peter Fraize grabs some Z-Z-Z's during his long six hour day.

A new policy, which went into effect this year, projected HHS as a role model for other high schools in the county. Officialdom put out the word as follows, "A sincere concern for the health and welfare of all students has prompted the PTA, Area III offices, the faculty and the student body of HHS to initiate a No Tobacco Policy for the 1981-1982 school year."

The program is enforced and monitored by the entire staff, as well as four awareness aids trained specifically for that purpose. The administration states that students will not use tobacco in any form on school property nor will they use drugs or alcohol while at school.

Offenses are dealt with in alternative ways. First time offenders of the no-smoking policy can elect a 2-day out of school suspension or two Awareness Center sessions after school. The second, third, and fourth offenses are dealt with more rigorously, culminating with a 5-day suspension and a hearing at the Area office.

The aim of the policy is to help those students who smoke to quit and to persuade those students who don't smoke not to start. Initial results are encouraging.

Although students continue to line up across the street from school grounds for their daily drag, indications are that smoking dropped off considerably among students.

One note of consternation about the policy on the part of students concerns the fact that teachers and staff have access to smoking lounges within the school. Some students feel that this is a source of discrimination against them and furthermore insist that if the school truly believes that tobacco smoking is harmful to one's health, then the best way to implement its concern would be a total ban on smoking on campus.

“This Year has
memorable for me . . . ”

My name is Nicola Atkinson and I am an A.F.S. student from England. Herndon High was very different from my last school: My last school was a boarding school with only 600 students. School never started until 8:20 and ended at 6 p.m. So it took quite a bit of adjusting to the differences here.

The first few days at a new school in a different country could be pretty difficult, but I was made to feel very welcome from the very first day.

This year has been really memorable for me, here in the States and at Herndon. I would like to thank all my teachers for being so helpful and my friends and family here for being so supportive and wonderful to me.

My name is Lizneth Guerra. I am a AFS student from Panama for the AFS Winter Program.

I am living with Jerome Geary's family and I have two brothers and two sisters. My host sister is Meghan and she is a Junior at Herndon High.

My family is wonderful and warm to me. They always try to explain everything to me because I speak Spanish, and in the beginning I didn't understand many things. I like this school because people are friendly and nice to me. For me this is a new type of school because this educational system is different from mine. For example, in Panama the classes are from 7:15 to 1:00 p.m. There are eight classes every day and each class is 45 minutes. There is no lunch at school but there are twenty minutes for refreshments.

My teachers are very good people and they help me a lot. I have many friends that try to speak with me in Spanish. It is very nice for me, and I like it!

My school activities are mainly the Herndon High School Marching Band and Project Friend Club. Sometimes I participate in the Spanish Honor Society and in the Spanish classes.

Every day for me is something new, in this school and in this country.

I will remember this year forever, my senior year in the U.S.A.

"I wasn't sure what to expect when I first came here . . . "

"I will remember
this year
forever . . . "

Have you ever wondered what it's like in another country? Well, I did and so I applied to A.F.S.

My name is Anthony and I'm from Melbourne Australia. I arrived here in July and I leave July 2nd, 1982. I'm here at Herndon as a senior and so far I am enjoying it.

I was anxious to start school. School here is very different from that in Australia. For a start, Herndon High is about four times bigger than my school and is also coeducational. My first week of school was spent in a flurry: Trying to find all my classes and just getting to know people really tired my out.

Back home I usually got up at 7:45, but getting up at 6 a.m. took a bit of getting used to. My school day in Australia was from 9:00 a.m. to 3:20 p.m. with one hour lunch and a total of 50 minute break between classes.

I was a little unsure about how it was going to go at school both academically and socially. Well, I quickly found out that all my worries were unnecessary.

I have on the whole found the students to be really friendly and keen to get to know me. You get the occasional nasty student but they're few and far between.

American schools are really into sports and your school spirit is incredible. We don't have involved sports and it is not usual to go to the sporting events.

Academically, you have a far wider choice of subjects than I did back home, but you take fewer classes!!

I wasn't sure what to expect when I first came here, so I just took things as they came.

So far, it's really been great. School is different the people are different, they have a different culture and because of this I find Herndon very interesting and enjoyable.

"You Can't Take It With You!"

The fall production of "You Can't Take it with You" was a glorious success. Ms. Daniels has chosen once again an excellent cast.

Sharing the role of Penelope Sycamore were Kathryn Ficke and Jennifer Donaldson who are both fine actresses. Leslie Shannon, who played Essie, an amateur ballet dancer, gave an excellent performance, as did Chuck Stanley, who perfected a Russian accent to compliment his exhilarating performance as Kolenkhov. Tom Ruiz and his hilarious antics as Paul had the audience rolling in the aisles. Kurt Reighley was another talented performer who brightened the evening with his playing of the xylophone, and Joan St. Germain, normally a nice person, played a Wall Street snob to perfection. The highlight of the evening came when Monica Longoria, as Gay the lush, stumbled on stage in a drunken stupor. Last, but certainly not least, was Tami Davis who took a small part and made the most out of it.

The whole cast, both A & B, did an excellent job making this fall's production very entertaining.

"Get a coke for the skull, won't you. He hasn't had a bite to eat all day!"

"This is not pimple cream!"

Leslie Shannon demonstrates her natural grace and agility while portraying the role of an amateur dancer.

Snow — it may be a four letter word to some people but to us it means MAGIC! The second the first flake falls someone rushes to the window and yells, "It's snowing!" All heads turn automatically. Slowly but surely the snow starts piling up and everyone waits impatiently for the announcement from Mr. Price . . . "Good afternoon students. Uh — this is Mr. Price speaking. We're sorry to inform you that school will be let out . . . " From there it's history. Once school is out, snow takes on a new meaning. It means going on ski trips with your friends at Round Top or Liberty. Spending time sledding and having snow-ball fights when you should be in 4th period, and sleeping in while listening to Howie on DC 101 (remember, Dial-a-Date, Beaver Breaks, and rankouts?) when you should be getting ready for school.

The multi-talented Mark Faraglia Practices up on his guitar. Although he was slated to perform a piano and guitar duet with Mike Schlesinger, Mark was sick the night of the Show-A big loss for everyone!!

Joe Cody is bass guitar for the band Elden Street. With two drummers and original music, the group provided a decidedly professional (if loud) aspect to the Show.

Diligent seniors worked long and hard to produce the Show and painting the rainbow-colored Senior Talent Show sign was not the least of their worries!!

Mike Lance belts out the words to one of Elden Street's numbers while Bill Jackman, drummer for the Strangers looks on in awe.

Elden Street member Jeff Cody is surprised by the photographer! Jeff and his brother Joe joined up with drummers Bobby Gibb and Raeburn Updike and guitarist Mike Lance to provide first rate ROCK-n-ROLL!!!

Tom Ruiz, the only non-musical act in the Show, keeps the crowd rolling in their seats with tales of refugee socks and SEX education!!

Question! What event rocked H.H.S. the night of March 6, 1982, drawing phenomenal crowds and raising over $1,000 for the Senior Class. Oops! Gave it away. You guessed it — The Senior Talent Show!

The show featured emcees Leticia vanDoorn and Sean Gleason, who nearly caused mass hysteria when he threatened to play "Freebird" on his zipper. Right Sean!!

A Moment's Notice, a jazz quartet made up of juniors Pete Fraize and Raleigh Neal and seniors Tony Lewis and John Inkster opened the show with 3 very professional numbers, including "My Funny Valentine".

Andrea Sternfels and Dan Madigan followed with a duet, "Just for Tonite". Next, '81 grad Jerry Stewart and freshman Mike Schlesinger performed 3 Simon and Garfunkel duets.

The only country group in the show, Country's Finest featured '80 grad Thione Carpenter, vocals and guitar; Dee Carpenter, vocals and guitar; Mindy Hobson, Piano; and Heidi Gerber, bass guitar.

Freshman Tom Ruiz followed with a superb stand-up comedy routine in which he did such things as putting a railroad spike through a rabbit's head (the rabbit was stuffed) and calling on a member of the audience, junior Ralph Heymsfeld, for assistance during a card trick. Being the only non-musical act must have been hard, but Tom gave a performance people were talking about for days!

The last act before the intermission was Underground, the first of 3 rock groups. Members of the group were Kevin Brady, vocals; Tony Ward, guitar; Kevin Crawford, vocals and tambourine; Ethan Cebulash and John Boling on guitar and Steve Caldwell on drums and percussion. For those of us who were unable to attend any of the concerts of the Rolling Stones' '81 tour, the Underground provided a good, if somewhat tamer version of the Stones' "Jumpin' Jack Flash" and "Sympathy for the Devil" with the old Chuck Berry standard "Johnny B. Good" thrown in for variety.

After the intermission, the audience was rocked as never before with the antics of Elden Street. The group featured Mike Lance, vocals & guitar; Jeff Cody, vocals & guitar; Joe Cody, bass guitar; Bobby Gibb, WILD percussion; and Raeburn Updike, percussion and Fantastic drum solo!! This band even had the people backstage dancing and shouting!!

Next, Kevin Brady returned to centerstage with a Springsteen Medley (Yea Brucie-baby!). The barbershop quartet the Herndon Harmonizers followed, singing such oldies as "Wait Til the Sun Shines Nellie", and providing an interesting rendition of "Freebird"! The four vocalists were Dan Harasty, Toby Callendar, Mike Lowdermilk and Ted Voorhees.

Another performer to return for a second time was Mike Schlesinger who was to do a piano & guitar duet with senior Mark Farfaglia. Unfortunately, Mark was taken ill and so Mike went on alone, giving the audience a taste of some great classical guitar.

Seniors Kelli Barrett and Steve Watkins were next, serenading the audience with the duet "Don't Fall in Love With a Dreamer".

Last and most definitely not least were the Strangers who rocked the auditorium with both original music and a WILD version of "BORN TO BE WILD". The band featured lead singer & guitarist Roger Freeman, guitarists Mike Bossie and Dave Stephenson and drummer Bill Jackman.

EXCELLENT SHOW!!

Senior Kelly Barrett is real pro at this. She's been in the Show for three years! Here, she sings a duet with fellow senior Steve Watkins.

Opening Night

Bobby Gibb, one of Elden Street's two drummers, went wild once he felt those skins under his fingertips (Heh, Heh!!).

The Herndon Harmonizers sang in typical barbershop quartet fashion, serenading the audience with old favorites such as "My Wild Irish Rose"... Kermit tries to get into the act!!

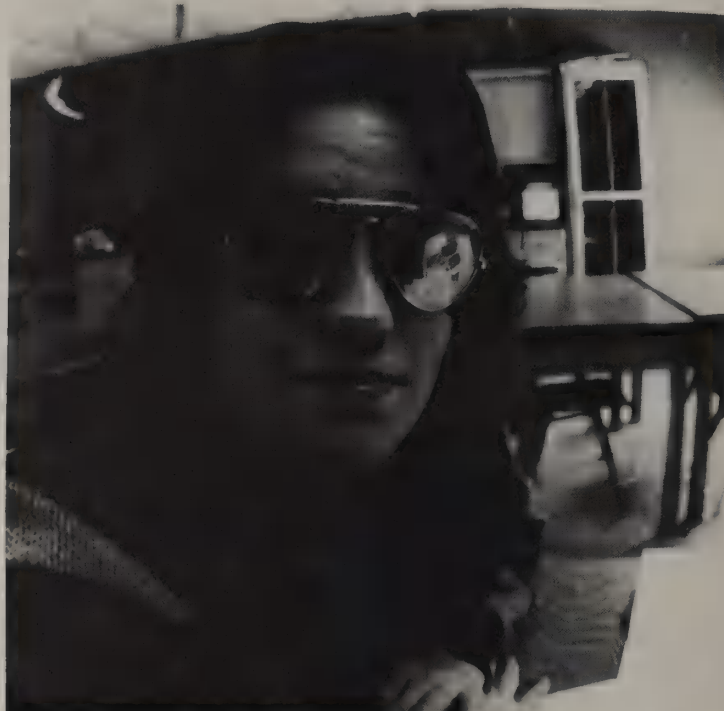

Pete Fraize and Tony Lewis, members of the jazz quartet Moment's Notice, opened the show with favorites of the Jazz Age!! The group has been gaining attention locally and have already gotten a manager from Rising Star Productions.

District Wrestling

The Hornet Cheerleaders helped support the wrestlers with their everlasting spirit. This one's for you Holly!

Coach Noll and Coach Craig helped by recording the wrestlers' scores.

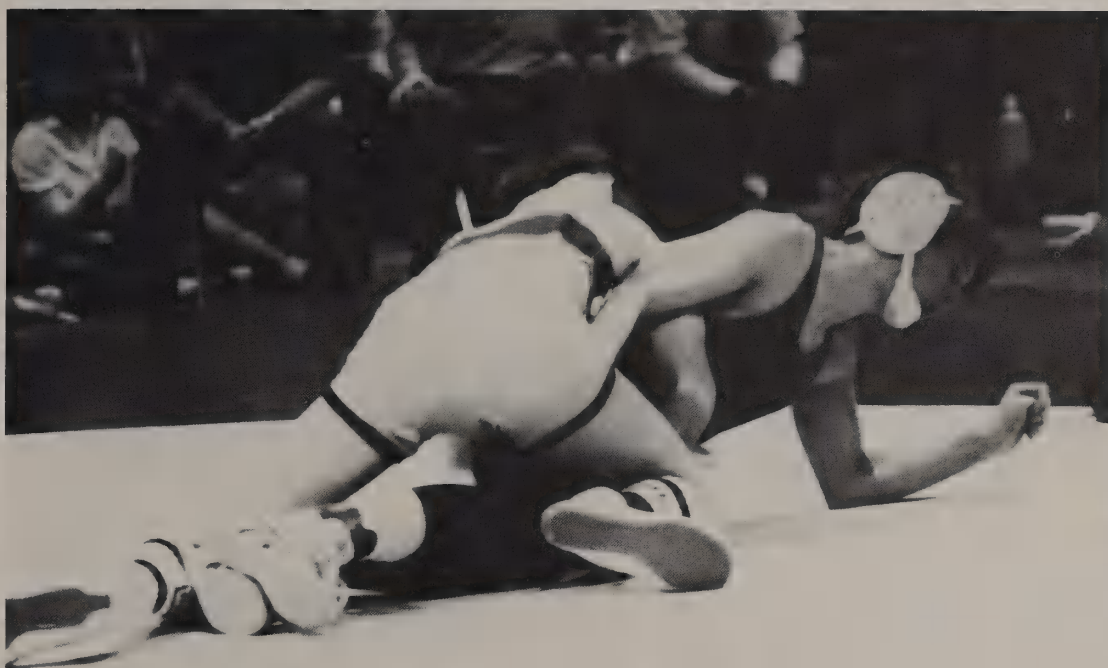

And the District Champions ... The Herndon Hornets!!!

Hornet Dan Buckley wrestles with a South Lakes Seahawk.

Tony Lovelace watches as the Hornets move on to victory.

Aladin El Tagi relaxes before he must have brave the mats again!!

These Langley Saxons look a little nervous on Hornet Territory.

A Day In The Life . . .

You walk into 1st period . . . Time to face a new day! Wipe the sleep from your eyes and get some gum to cover up the fact that you forgot to brush your teeth. Chemistry-ugh . . . What is Avacado's number (oops, that's Avogadro's number . . . the day is still young!)? You explain to your teacher that it's too early to deal with vegetables and put your head down.

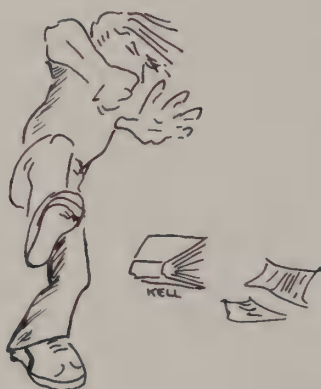

In second period you catch your reflection in the mirror of the girl in front of you who is busy getting lip gloss all over her face. Suddenly, you notice that you haven't combed your hair this morning, so you whip out a brush and fix it as if you didn't know. Later, you lay back and play poker and lose 5 bucks in notebook paper. Things start to brighten up when you catch your teacher squirting Dristan into his nose. Now that's something you'd hate to miss.

By third you have more energy for you to realize that the day's half over. Plus, the "clack" of the typewriters is keeping you awake. This seems to drag slowly along though lunch is just around the corner.

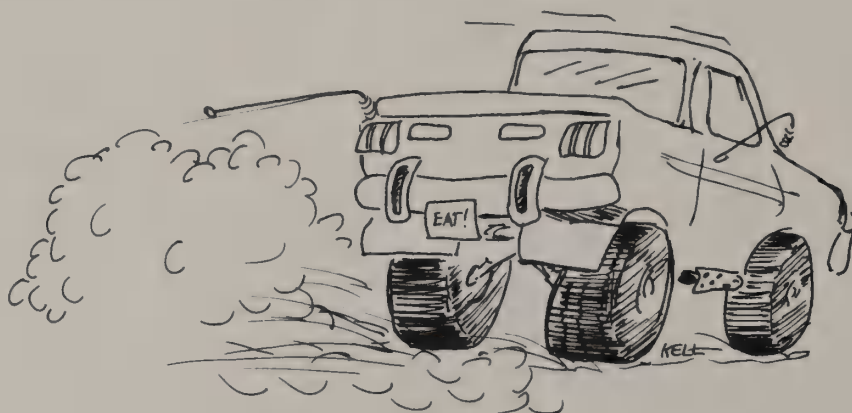

You get to the cafeteria and grab 2 Honeybuns, some Twinkies, a pack of Oreos and a shake to help it down (Gee, wouldn't ma be proud?).

4th period goes by without much action, but by 5th the effect of the Twinkies is taking over. You are able to make fun of the slides in Emergency Care . . . So what if all those people are dead!?

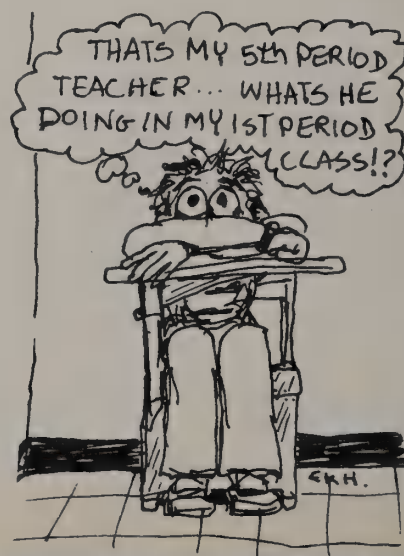

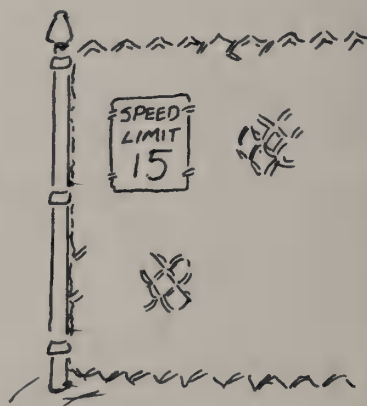

The last class of the day finally rolls around. You watch the horses being fed behind the school and the funeral going on across the street. Anything beats paying attention. You put paper in the kid's hair in front of you and warn him that he should use Tegrin. Hey, it's good for a laugh! Finally the bell rings!!! You run for the bus, and slide down in your seat. AH — the day is finally over.

FIRST BELL

LUNCH TIME!

Jeff Kuzniewski practices up on his hypnotic abilities.

Oh Mr. Stallings, won't you ever grow up?!

Dan Madigan, Heidi Gerber and Michelle Waddell get ready to sing their hearts out on a Chorus field trip.

Ormus Davenport sulks in the library.

Amateur barber Steve Loftus offers to give Abby Abrash a trim.
NO THANKS STEVE!!!

Mark Young doubts the intentions of the photographer.

Black History Assembly

Senior Steve Lamkin participated in the Black History Assembly with a speech about the important contributions of Black Americans throughout history.

Murriel Price-alias PRINCIPAL!! Di'an Wilson and friend sing to the beat.

A Moment's Notice, that's all it takes for this group to get your attention. They are the definition of the word "cool".

Kevin Crawford, Di'an Wilson, David Crawford, Gary Vincent and Gail White let it all out.

Seasons' Greetings

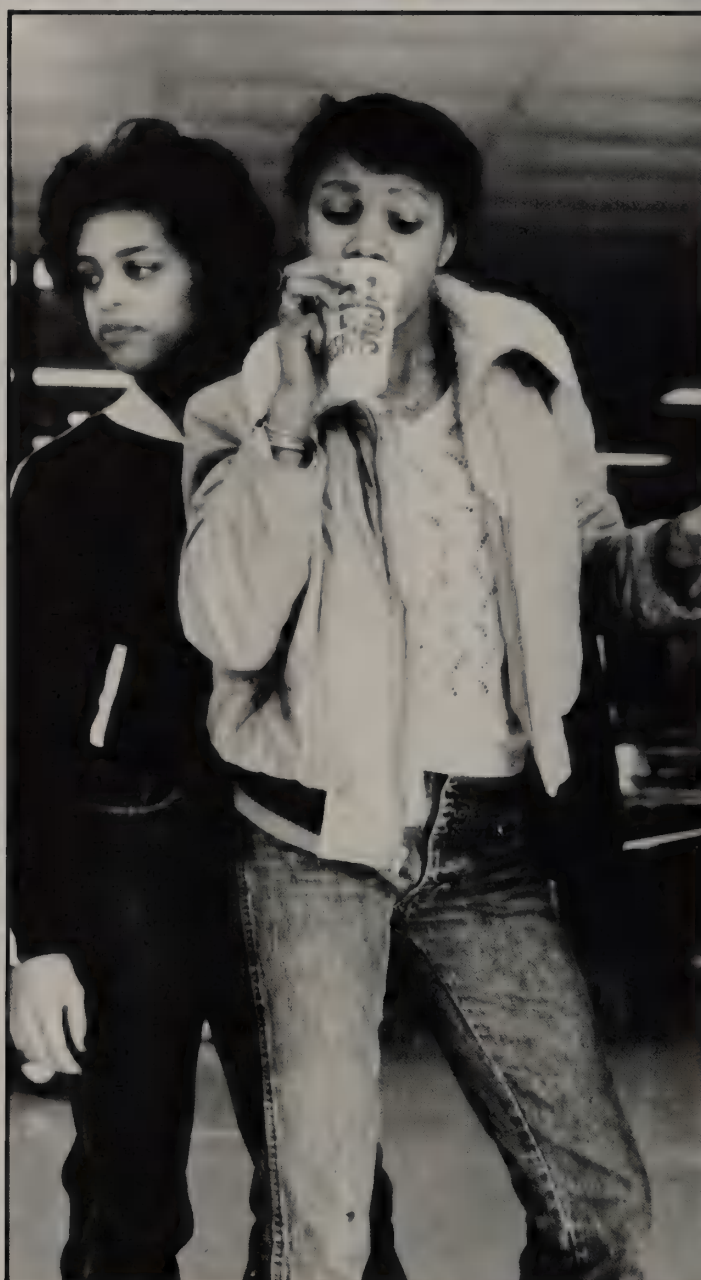

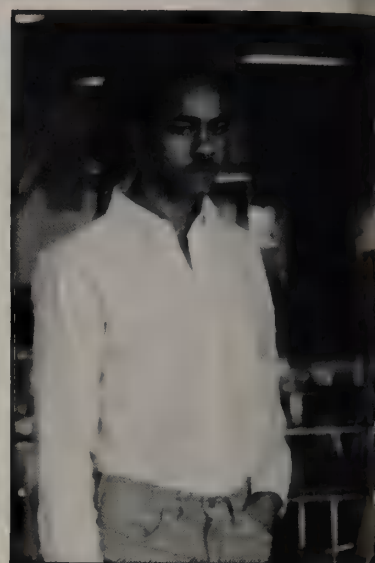

Jon Wells and Angel Moskal have that holiday spirit!

Ernest Brunson, Chris Chinn, Tony Lovelace and Paul Williams at the SGA Holiday Dance. It seemed no girls showed up so the guys had to dance with each other.

Can you identify these people?????

Marketing and Distributive Education is a program of vocational education offered through the public schools to provide instruction in the field of distribution, or marketing. It is the study of all the activities and concepts concerned with bringing products and services from the producer to the ultimate consumer. Such activities include buying, selling, merchandising, sales promotion, advertising, market research, personnel selection and administration, and business management. These occupations are found in such business as retail and wholesale trade, finance, insurance, real estate, entertainment, hospitality, food service, communications, transportation, storage, and warehousing. The primary role of Marketing and Distributive Education is to offer instruction which will prepare individuals to enter, to progress, or to improve competencies in the distributive occupations.

After Mrs. Sleeper returns her Latin test, Vineeta Singh looks over her paper to see if she made any mistakes.

Door to Door Combat

As a member of the Junior class, you have probably, at one point or another, participated in door to door selling.

For those of you who have yet to experience this much-loved ritual, it involves going up to a door, knocking and then being greeted by a soggy individual who has just stepped out of the shower and is holding a screaming child in one arm, while trying to put on a fuzzy pink slipper with the other.

In the background, you hear:

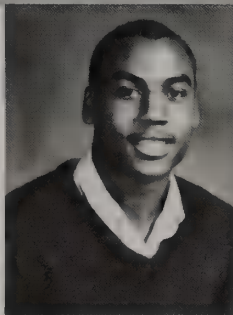

- 1) A doberman pincer (or three Pekinese) barking
- 2) The telephone ringing
- 3) The oven buzzer going off
- 4) The television noises blasting from the family room
- 5) The sound of your pleading voice, whimpering because you know you are about to humiliate yourself in front of a complete stranger (or worse yet, a neighbor who you will have to see until you leave home!).

You may proceed with the sales pitch.

"GGG-Morning kind lady. I'm selling . . . "You shiver as the water droplets from her wet hair hit you. She is shaking her head, trying to say, "Forget it, kid!" as nicely as possible. She closes the door a little harder than usual and you walk back home.

You swear you will never do this again as long as you live, but deep down you know that next month is the start of the Cheese & Sausage Season!

The Junior "10"

Gaining ten pounds is not only unique to college freshmen (otherwise known as the "Freshman 10" or "Freshman Spread"), but mysteriously, it also seems to plague the high school Junior.

It must be understood that this change is not due to the Junior himself, but rather, to the changes in lifestyle. Now that the new upperclassman does not have to bother with changing for gym anymore he has one more academic class to juggle. Obviously, sitting in a hard desk does not burn up as many calories as shivering under a cold shower. The heavier work load causes an increase in bad eating habits because instead of sitting down to a well-balanced meal, the student continues to study while eating a candybar or a cupcake. Another factor contributing to the Junior's bad eating habits is the fact that he is rarely found at home. With the freedom of being able to drive, he is able to stay afterschool for extra-curricular activities or go to more PARTIES (and you know what party drinks do to the waistline!).

Slowly, as the Junior plods through the winter months, his metabolism changes and one day (usually 3 weeks before Prom), he looks in the mirror only to discover what his thin sophomore body has blossomed in to!

WHAT'S

Ode to Mr. Lacey

Who is Mr. Lacey? Although we hear his name announced practically every day, nobody really seems to know.

Mr. Lacy has been working at our school since July, 1980. He gets up early every morning and drives all the way from Culpepper to begin his job here as the Building and Maintenance Engineer. This job involves knowing how to maintain and operate the heating and cooling system. All requests for repairs are referred to him, most of which he is able to take care of himself and, if not, he calls the School Board Maintenance Dept.

So the next time you hear that high-pitched nasal voice calling, "Mr. Lacey!", you will know that there is one person who is working hard to keep the school running smoothly.

WHAT A DAY!

I woke up late
Then fell out of bed
The shower went cold
I bumped my head
My new sandals broke
On my dress I spilled juice
My mascara smeared
My French braids came loose
I just caught the bus
As I ran out the door
I forgot all my homework
My head is still sore
I walked off the bus
It started to rain
I forgot my lunch money
I'm going insane
I dropped my books
Got an hours detention

For yelling something
I'd rather not mention
My best friend and I
Got into a fight
The dentist was shaky
Pulled my braces too tight
Finally home
Locked out of the house
I lost my keys
When I saw a mouse
And then tonight
My luck isn't over
My turn to wash dishes
And then to feed Grover
I stubbed my toe
I lost a bet
It's been a day
I'd rather forget!!

Wouldn't you like to hear . . .

- * The morning announcements
- * Beatles in concert
- * The bell at least five seconds after you get into class
- * That summer break is coming early this year
- * The typewriters in Mrs. Carter's class muzzled
- * "O.K. kids, your test for today is cancelled."
- * Chairs that don't screech on the cafeteria floor
- * That cute guy say, "Hi!"
- * Your favorite song at just the right moment!
- * Someone say they like your new outfit, and mean it
- * The fire alarm, during a Physics film

18 Ways to Deal With A Zit:

- 1) Push and poke
- 2) Wish upon a star
- 3) Use a sterilized needle
- 4) Smile broadly
- 5) Steam it
- 6) Hide in the corner
- 7) Consider plastic surgery
- 8) Be cool and act like it's not there
- 9) Swear you'll never eat chocolate again
- 10) Cover it up with a band-aid
- 11) Except it as a result of a low bio-rhythm day
- 12) Try radiation therapy
- 13) Buy every zit cream sold at Dart Drug
- 14) Be patient and wait until it dissolves
- 15) Put a paper bag over your head
- 16) Consider selling your soul
- 17) Try to hide it with make-up (seldom works!)
- 18) Say it's a mosquito bite (only works during summer months!)

What a fast Dyn. Alvin smiles after having his lunch.

My Home Away From Home

My locker, it's mine and nobody knows the combination but me — and Suzie, and Julie, and maybe Alex.

Anyway, I love this locker. It's by the cafeteria and I only go down there for lunch, but I live where it is. Oh, and sometimes it sticks, but I still love it. All my worldly possessions are in there; my picture of me and later in the year, my mirror and my Herndon Hornets mug full of candy.

I spent three hours decorating my locker. I cut out magazine pictures and headlines and I made wall-to-wall carpeting for it.

Once a Senior tried to stuff me in it, but I hit him in the leg. I keep an emergency crow bar strapped to the top of my locker for the times when I must pry lovers off my under clean gray locker.

Need I say more about my locker? Just, I love it!

Rubik's Syndrome

There, crumpling over his Rubik's Cube, is a freshman. His eyes are bulging with concentration and are nearly touching the lenses of his glasses. Sweat is pouring from his forehead as his fingers move at lightning speed. The clicking is driving everyone in the room crazy. The seniors in the class are yelling at the kid, but he carries on. "I can't stand it any more. I grab the Cube from him and throw it out the window as hard as I can. The freshman lets out a soft whimper as his beloved toy is smashed to smithereens by a passing car. hello there, sweetie!

Clubs And Organizations

Senior Class Council: left to right, front row: Marissa McDevitt, Matt Kell, Lisa Hilt, Dale Gatling second row: Brenda Lopez, Jill Swerdloff, Joy Jensen, Patty Korn (Sponsor), third row: Kelli Barrett, Mel Smith fourth row: Beth Clancy, Karen Hofer, Leslie Kane fifth row: Mandy Durham, John Holloway, Leticia vanDoorn

Yes, the Senior Class Council does do something! After recovering from the expenses of sponsoring Prom the year before, it is the Senior Class Council that conducts the voting for Senior Superlatives. Later in the year, they produce the Senior Talent Show, their biggest fundraiser. This year's show raised over $1,000! The last and most eagerly awaited task comes at the end of the year. When the group must plan and execute GRADUATION. Definitely the most pleasant of all the jobs these people have had to perform since their initiation to high school life, four years ago.

GOOD JOB GUYS!!
AND GOOD LUCK!!

Senior Class Officers: left to right: Matt Kell, V.P.; Lisa Hilt, President; Marissa McDevitt, Secretary; Dale Gatling, Treasurer

"Yes, I did win most likely to succeed!" says an elated Senior Class President Lisa Hilt.

No, believe it or not these are NOT freshmen. The members of the Junior Class stand around waiting for the Yearbook photographer.

Junior year is probably the most demanding, rewarding, and busy year of high school. Added to the pressures of SAT's, maintaining grades and trying to weasle your parents out of the car, the members of the Junior Class Council are responsible for putting on the Junior/Senior Prom in May.

To finance this enterprise, the council had car washes, sponsored in part the magazine drive and sold carnations for Thanksgiving. Despite rumors to the contrary, the Junior Class Council did raise enough money by itself and did not have to borrow funds from the Key Club or the Senior Class.

VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) is a social club that is involved in developing leadership among our young people. It is oriented toward developing skills through contests on the state and national level. VICA participates in such events as parades, community activities, fundraising and social events.

V.I.C.A.

Selling popcorn was VICA's biggest fundraiser. John Holloway shows how to transfer the popcorn to the bags.

The popcorn sale was so profitable that the club was able to buy this car. President Judy Wightman gives the photographer one last pose before taking the limo home.

SGA

The SGA is the largest student organization at Herndon; every student is a member. The SGA, through its Executive Board, SGA representatives and committees, works to supply the school with worthwhile, successful activities such as Homecoming, Mayfest and elections. This year's group has provided many activities that have had tremendous support.

Increased student participation has helped to make the job easier, as has the experience and dedication of the officers and the sponsor, Mr. MacMurtrie. The Executive Board is the governing body of the SGA that meets weekly to discuss matters of concern. It consists of the SGA President, Vice President, Student Activities Chairperson, Human Relations Chairperson, Secretary, Treasurer, Committee Chairpersons and the ICC Chairperson. Representative meetings are held monthly in order to relay important information to the homerooms and to make decisions requiring large inputs of opinion.

The SGA has many accomplishments to boast of. It has managed to reach the majority of its goals. Among these are the Canned Food Drive which was twice as successful as ever before and the Christmas/Holiday Dance in the Main Intersection halls.

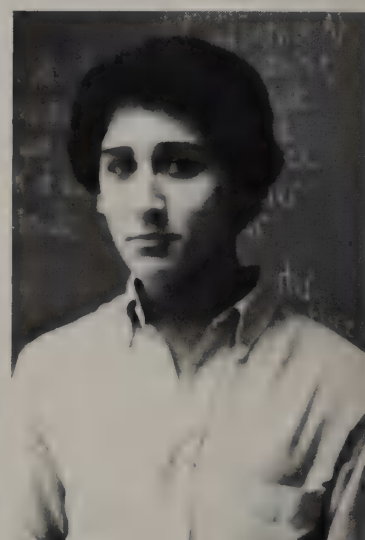

Where the SGA's jurisdiction ends, the ICC takes over. The purpose of the ICC (Inter-Club Council) is to regulate fund raisers sponsored by various clubs.

Meetings are held once a month. Any club wishing to have a fund raiser must fill out a request form and send a representative to the meeting. Most of the time the activity is approved, but if there are two that conflict, the ICC Chairman and the other representative vote on it. Usually, the club who is in the most need of funds gets first priority.

Without the ICC there would be much dispute between clubs on fund-raising issues.

SGA Executive Board: Nancy Dailey, George Light, Lars Okeson, Di'an Wilson, Kathy Hidalgo, Matt Kell, Irwin Rappaport, Jeannie Everett, Heba Ghoneim Not pictured: Mr. Michael MacMurtrie, Sponsor

Irwin gives us his chic and debonair look!

The SGA Reps!

SGA meetings are very intense!

ICC & SAC

The Student Advisory Council is the channel through which students voice their opinions to the School Board. Herndon elects five members to SAC to attend area meetings and a single member of the group attends countywide meetings. SAC elects the student member of the School Board and concerns itself with such problems as methods chosen for determining class rank, changes in SR & R, and drug abuse in the school.

Honor Society

If you're a junior or senior you've probably heard of Miss Newcome, Ms. Ostheim, and the National Senior Honor Society, NHS boasts one of the largest memberships in the school.

The club is quite active and sponsors such events as Freshman/Senior Breakfast and gives scholarships to its most active senior members.

It seems as though NSHS is always involved in some type of fundraiser. This year, Seniors and new enductees sold M&M's and bumperstickers. Later, the club went on to sell pretzels afterschool and during the Senior Talent Show.

Requirements for admission to the society are demanding. Each prospective inductee must write a series of three essays on the subjects of service, character and leadership. (What an ego trip!) These eassays are reviewed by a board of teachers and acceptance is based on their decision.

The National Junior Honor Society not only provides service to the school but also to the surrounding community. Activities range from bake sales to contributing to local charities.

In order to become a member of the club, one must exhibit the qualities of leadership, character, service and citizenship. In addition to maintaining a 3.2 grade point average, many members participate in other school clubs and sports. The Honor Society rewards its hardest working members by presenting them with an award at the end of the year.

Spanish Honor Society

Having gotten off to a good start, the Spanish Honor Society continued this momentum throughout the year. The club, which is dedicated to maintaining an interest in the Spanish culture and language, held what was perhaps the school's first TACO sale. The members also sponsored a Spanish Dinner Theater for the parents of newly inducted members.

With a growing membership of supportive and enthusiastic people the society hopes to become more involved within the Reston/Herndon community, as well as with the activities of the school.

French Honor Society

The National French Honor Society is an organization which consists of students who excel in the French language.

In order to be inducted to the society, a student is required to have at least two years of French and to have achieved high academic standards in all classes. The club's purpose is to enrich the members' knowledge of the culture and language of the French.

Major activities included this year are a tutoring service, bake sales and visits to French restaurants.

Speaker Mrs. Susan Seeley relates some of her experiences in France.

It's hard to think of Latin as being a "dead" language when there are so many Latin events going on around the area.

Led by their sponsor, Mrs. Sleeper, the members of the Latin Club make an effort to take advantage of all these opportunities whenever possible. The Latin Club's many activities include a trip to the University of Maryland for Classics Day and participating in Latin Bowls (similar to "It's Academic'")) and in the National Latin Exam.

In an attempt to ignite the spark of learning in the young, members make yearly sojourns to the Intermediate and local elementary schools expounding the benefits of learning Latin.

Students even have a chance to try Greek and Roman goodies by visiting restaurants and staging Roman Banquets.

If Latin is a "dead" language then the Latin Club hasn't caught on yet!

Known The World Over

Curly tops Colleen Evans and Tanja Shipman are actively involved in AFS.

The American Field Service (AFS) had its origins in 1914 when it was organized to provide the French armies with ambulance assistance. It mobilized volunteers for the same purpose with Allied Armies in World War II. Between the two world conflicts, AFS conducted a graduate fellowship program with French Universities.

In 1946, the current international scholarship program for secondary school students was created. The next year, the first AFS scholars came to the United States. From those initial 52 AFS students, AFS has grown over the years to involve thousands of students, families and AFS volunteers each year.

Our students this year are from Australia, the United Kingdom and Panama. Benefits for all students are numerous.

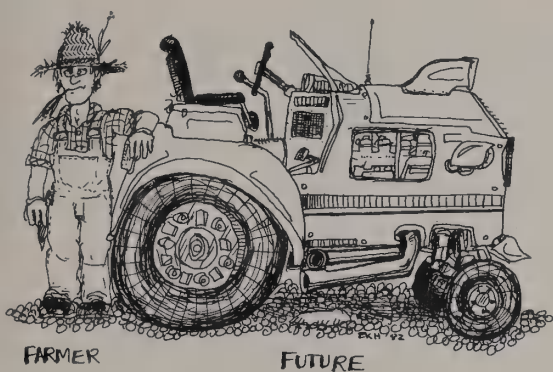

- a deeper understanding of oneself and others.
- a new respect and awareness of different attitudes and ways of life.
- an increased knowledge of the history and culture of another area of one's country or the world.
- a new perspective on one's own beliefs, traditions, history and culture.
- a more profound understanding of the interdependence of all peoples and their problems.

The Future Business Leaders of America is an organization whose purpose is to, "... provide, as an integral part of the instructional program, additional opportunities for secondary students (grades 7-12) in business and office education to develop vocational and career supportive competencies and to promote civic and personal responsibility."

Like several other clubs in the school, the FBLA participated in Homecoming by entering a float. Constructed from chicken wire and paper napkins, the float consisted of a Winnie the Pooh sitting at a desk typing. After the parade, Winnie's head was placed in the business hall showcase along with pictures of the original float and words expressing FBLA's goals; Education, Service and Progress.

It's Academic

The "It's Academic" Team coached by Mrs. Gretchen Goswick placed third in this year's competition with Holton Arms (a private girl's school) taking first and Parkview following with second place.

The guys and their fans, family and members of the H.H.S. Marching Band trekked down to NBC studios in Washington one cold Saturday morning in November to compete against the quickest minds in the area, and emerged, if not victorious, at least with Mac McGarry's nameplate!

The team members train for competition for weeks ahead of time, and are to be congratulated for their great dedication and perseverance.

The Math Team is comprised of about 10 people who meet every other Thursday and answer math problems. The members, who are in math classes ranging from Algebra II Calculus, have to use their knowledge of math to answer timed questions. The results of the eight in-school meets are sent in to a committee and then there is a county-wide meet where the final rankings of all the schools are determined.

Unlike most other schools, our team doesn't practice for the meets, but rely on their previous knowledge of math instead. Despite this disadvantage, the team did well this year.

Project FRIEND-Link is one of the school's several service clubs. However, it has a rather unique purpose-that of supporting all students in need or crisis. Project FRIEND-Link introduces new students to the school, assists foreign students with the transition to American life and reaches out to homebound and handicapped kids.

Members of Project FRIEND-Link take part in such activities as supervising at the Special Olympics, providing a Thanksgiving dinner for a needy family and holding afterschool socials for new students.

Keyettes

This is a Keyette meeting?

As the school's two service clubs, the Key club and Keyettes have their hands full. This year, the groups pooled their resources for several activities including work on the Headstart program. Other activities were the painting of the NO TOBACCO signs around the school, cleaning up the stadium after Friday night games and donating money to the school for equipment.

Under the leadership of Brian Ralston and Monica Longoria, both clubs have been really successful in raising funds. The Keyettes held many bake sales throughout the year as well as selling carnations at Homecoming — a traditional Keyette fundraiser. The Key club held its annual garage sale and also joined up with VICA in selling popcorn after school.

Membership to the club is based on applications submitted in the Spring and Fall. Much is demanded of members and one of the questions on the application form asks if the prospective inductee is willing to put club activities above other interests. There must be many dedicated students because membership in both clubs has been rising steadily of course, the parties might be part of the reason . . .

At any rate, both groups have been doing a super job and we can only hope that this continues next year!

They look a little more attentive here!

the stinger

FREE once again!! Due to rises in production costs, the Stinger was forced to charge a small fee last year, but through the efforts of Editor-in-Chief Jeb Livingood and Business Editor Jason Swerdloff, students were able to receive and enjoy Stinger free of charge once again this year!

Stinger not only provides news stories on major school events and programs, but also gives updates on recent concerts, great features and a place for students to voice their views — the editorial page.

This year's editors were Jeb Livingood, Editor-in-Chief; Karen Hofer, Photo; Sanho Tree, News; Jason Swerdloff, Business; Steve Hambric, Sports and Sean Gleason, Features.

Scribe what is it?

It is Herndon's award winning literary arts magazine. Like it's sister publications, the Stinger and the Hornet, the Scribe is a student managed organization. It is run from funds donated by members of the business community, faculty, parents, and students.

Scribe is always looking for bright flashes of artistic genius from the student body to put in their book. Whether it be photography, short stories, artwork, or poetry, the Scribe is eager to publish your creative expressions.

Yearbook. Seems simple enough. Take a few pictures and write about them and what happens around school. Simple enough in theory, but in practice it's a whole different matter. Many a night you could find the yearbook people in room 119 wondering why they were there. Well, this is it, you're holding it. Late nights, frustration, ulcers, uncertainty, lost pictures, and blood, sweat and tears are all collected right here.

NOW A WORD FROM OUR SPONSOR:

I take this opportunity to say many thanks to the entire staff for a job well done. Even though we have had our "ups" and "downs" the overall effort by the staff has been more consistent and positive than in past years.

A special salute is in order to Patty Mitchell as Editor-in-Chief. Even though she started the job with little experience, she pledged to produce a yearbook, and with all the finesse and hard work of a true production manager, she came through with flying colors. Thanks Patty, you are much appreciated.

On behalf of the administration, teachers and student body, I extend a sincere appreciation to all who had any part in producing this book.

Erik Hargreaves, your wit and art characters will live for years to come, much thanks.

Pat Wightman, you took over photo production and saved the entire operation, thanks for the endless hours in the darkroom.

Scott Loftus, was responsible for overall page design, and did a superb job.

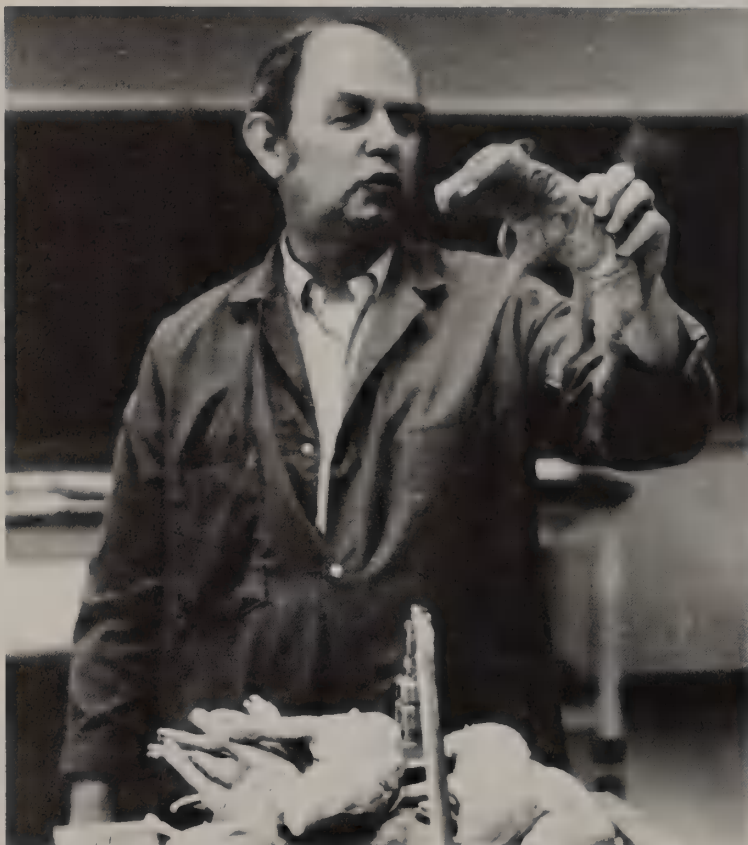

Eric Olson, yearbook sales and advertisements were good, thanks Eric.

Abby Abrash, who always has the last word (no joke intended). The book would truly look like a skeleton without all of that interesting copy, you're great.

Gang, there were hard times, some doubts and much frustration but all of you are greater today because you gave so much to the student body.

Thespians

A honor society for actors? It may sound incredible, but just as there is a club for high academic achievement and excellence in a language, there is also such an organization for participation in the activities of the drama department. For admission to this group, a budding young performer must earn 10 points. Each point represents 10 hours of time spent working on some aspect of at least two plays presented by the department.

Unlike many other clubs, the Thespians have definite goals. The members have vowed to replace the lighting and sound systems in the auditorium and they also took a trip to N.Y.C. to see a Broadway play.

Drama Club

The Drama Club is another group which takes a great interest in entertainment.

Drama Club shares in the goals and activities of the Thespians, but they perform an even greater task, too. It is the Drama Club members and their sponsor, Ms. Esther Daniels, who decide on and produce the two play productions staged each year.

Anyone taking an interest in acting can join Drama Club, though usually, the members have participated in school plays or are students in Ms. Daniels' drama classes.

Brass players in the Symphonic Band warm up before one of the many after-school sectionals they're expected to attend.

Everybody gets alert when there's a photographer around!

If you ever pass through the music wing of our school and hear strains of Bach, Beethoven, Mozart or even some of the contemporaries, you can be sure you have just heard the music of the H.H.S. Orchestra. Conducted by Miss Sharon Loudenslager, the orchestra is an active group both within the school program and beyond.

The group was requested by invitation to perform at Union Endicott High School in Endicott, New York. The trip, which lasted from April 29 to May 1 was done jointly with the South Lakes High School Orchestra. H.H.S. orchestra members zealously conducted many fundraising activities throughout the Herndon-Reston communities in order to raise money for the trip, such as bake sales, a roller rink party, gift sales and a 24 hour Play-a-thon in which the members fiddled their fingers off.

The group has performed concerts at community schools, clubs, in the South Lakes Little Theater and there have been invitational performances at several H.H.S. functions (i.e. Nat'l Senior Honor Society, etc.). At the rated performance at Virginia Band and Orchestra Directory Association's annual orchestra festival the group has received a Superior rating for the last four years.

Awards have been given to violinists Courtney Christiansen and Naina Ayva and violists Amy Gerber and Claire Kelly who are members of the 1981-1982 Junior Regional Orchestra and to viola player Teresa Shaffer who is a member of the 1981-1982 Senior Regional Orchestra and the All-State Orchestra.

The purpose of the orchestra is to provide an opportunity for qualified musicians to further their musical training through an orchestral experience and to represent H.H.S. at selected musical events.

Wind Ensemble

The Wind Ensemble is made up of approximately 60 wind, brass and percussion players. Little do people realize the amount of work and time that being in an award-winning group requires. Not only do the players have fourth period band class, but there are weekly evening rehearsals, individual practices for the different sections and competitions to attend.

25 Wind Ensemble members made the Senior and Junior Regional Bands: 10 of them qualifying to try out for All-State Band. This year the band competed at District Festival, Mid-Atlantic, which is held at H.H.S., and the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival, with a trip to Six Flags over New Jersey in the Spring.

Marching

The Marching Band did very well in its second year of competition. The band started practicing two weeks before school, teaching the freshmen how to march and follow orders, and helping the upperclassmen relearn formations.

At their first competition in Culpepper, the band placed second and at their second competition at Jefferson High School, the band and the color guard both took first place.

This is the first time in Herndon's history that its marching band has won a major competition. In state competition in Richmond, our band placed sixth out of 50 bands, which is very good considering the members' limited experience in competition.

Aside from the competing the band also performed their award-winning show at halftime during the Varsity Football games.

Drill Team

Although some see being a member of the Drill Team as being glamorous, the girls on the team know all too well the work and dedication that goes into making the group good.

For the Drill Teamers, practice and work start before the previous year is even over. Candidates must go through two intensive weeks of tryouts in which only 33 girls are picked from a group of 150 people. But the just making the squad is not where the tension ends, it is only the beginning. The team attended a camp during the summer at Mary Washington College where they won a spirit pom, improved their skills and learned new routines.

During the school year, the team practices three days a week, performing at pep rallies and at halftime for both Varsity Football and Basketball games.

Pom-Pom, "rah rahs" and saddleshoes . . . You gettin' the picture? Yup . . . Cheerleaders; some of the most active people in school who have helped keep our Spirit on its toes.

In order to give as many people as possible a chance to be on a squad, new squads were made for each season. Tryouts for the winter sports season were held in November and those chosen performed for both the basketball and wrestling teams. The Varsity squad, led by Mel Smith and Nancy Dailey, put together 3 pep rallies which were a great success. The J.V. squad, led by Michelle Durham and Janice Bergoffen, and the Freshman squad, headed by Colleen Naylor and Anne Wolf, helped out in raising spirit at all the rallies.

All three groups created terrific spirit which spread enthusiasm among all Hornets fans!

Football is a school sport that gets a considerable amount of publicity. Much gruelling work and effort goes into preparing for the season, not only from team members but also on the part of the band, cheerleaders and drill team.

In August, when most of us were enjoying the last month of vacation, our football team was out in the hot sun practicing and scrimmaging. Practices were held twice a day (except Sundays), and when the season started, practice was after school Monday through Thursday.

Coach Noll was very pleased with the team's performance and said that spirit was excellent. The 6-3-1 record showed that the Hornets had a good season. They did especially well during the Homecoming and Marshall games. The Hornets blanked the undefeated McLean team with a score of 28-0 and were never threatened by McLean's Offense. Likewise, the team exhibited an excellent performance at the Marshall game, winning with a score of 32-0.

Throughout, the enthusiasm had to be great as most of our players were physically smaller than the stereotype giant. According to several team members, probably one of the factors contributing to overall team spirit was Coach Noll's attitude toward losing a game. He was not known for lowering morale by ranting and raving over the team's performance. Rather, he would work them harder and encourage them to play better at the next game!

Junior Varsity Football

The Fighting Hornets block the Yorktown team in their first win of the season.

The J.V. football team began the season rather poorly, losing their first three games, but made a drastic turnabout, finishing the season with a 4-3-0 record.

Coach Mack said that the team had the tendency to play well only during certain parts of a game. He began practice on August 9 in order to have everyone in good shape for the first game. By the end of the season, the team had improved noticeably and played especially in the South Lakes game, finishing with a score of 16-0.

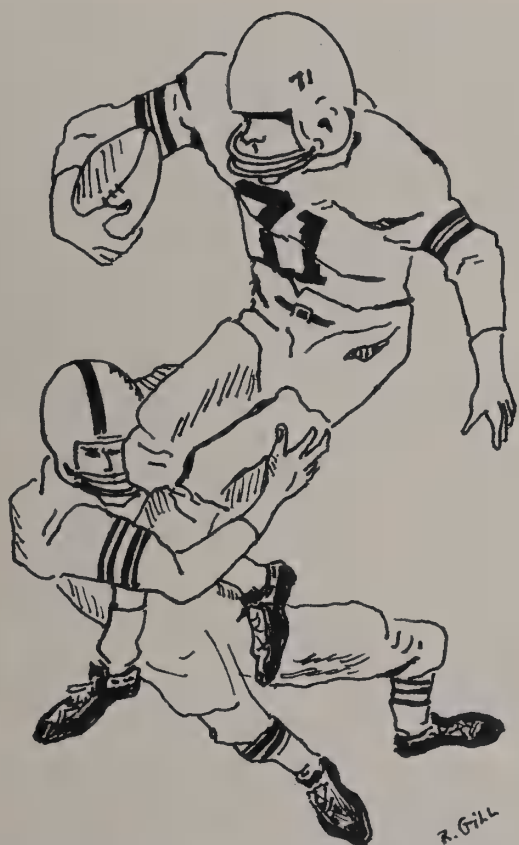

All of the twenty-one players gave good performances, though the efforts of Todd Heil, Rolando Rigual and Ted Derenge contributed greatly to the team.

For many, participating on Freshman football provided the first opportunity in playing on an organized football team. Many of the members had not, until this time, been a part of such a unit and this was somewhat of a hinderance to the team's performance.

However, the 2-4-1 record showed that the team had been working hard under Coach Hand's supervision to prepare themselves for the season. Although all players were given credit for their effort and hard work, exceptional performances were displayed by Terence Brunson, Ricky Rigual and Bob Schumacher.

Of the thirty-five players, approximately twenty are expected to try out for J.V. football and, according to Coach Hand, are definitely ready for the challenge!

J.V. Field Hockey

The Girls' J.V. Hockey team had its greatest strength in its enthusiasm and "will to kill" according to coach Joann Hargreave. The team, comprised of freshmen and sophomores, ended the season with a 4-4-2 record and a superb performance against South Lakes.

Coach Hargreave feels that members were enthusiastic and willing to work. Their efforts payed off with a great overall improvement, Coach Hargreave also notes that the team was "just plain good" and she is confident that most will play on next year's Varsity team.

It would be unfair to single out players as best, second best, etc. because everyone put forth an equal amount of effort and work to the overall performance. But, just for the record, Christine Petit was voted as most valuable player and Vickie Haynie as most spirited.

Varsity Field Hockey

Coach Ledane was mystified at the final outcome of the Varsity Hockey season. Although the team displayed a superb performance and a strong chance of placing first in the District, during the first half of the season, and continued this trend throughout the second half too, the team lost four of the first five games played. The season ended with a record of six wins and four losses. This is not, however, an accurate measure of the great amount of work displayed by the players. Most of the members had played together for at least one previous year if not two. This not only had effect on performance, but also the camaraderie among members which could be seen in the enjoyment in working with one another. However, this could not prevent the defeats during the latter part of the season. Coach Ledane says that she still has not fully understood what that missing "umph" was, though she does not have any regrets over the team's performance. She feels that the girls were "a super bunch of hockey players".

Among the outstanding players were Sophie Haynie who was voted most valuable player and Cheryl Steel who was voted most spirited player. Coach Ledane says that this is one of the best groups she has ever worked with.

Girls' Tennis

The girls' tennis team were Herndon High School's single district winners for the fall season. The title of district champion and the overall superb performance support Coach Barrett's high opinion of the team.

The season opened with three trial matches. The first of these was lost to Langley who were last year's state champions. Of the remaining nine matches the team won eight, losing the final match to Marshall. Later in the season, the team retaliated their Langley defeat by finishing with a score of 5 to 4. They then qualified for the regional tournaments.

At the regionals the team was defeated by T.C. Williams. Coach Barrett is still very pleased with the overall work and effort displayed by all members. Though all the girls improved greatly, Suzanne Traylor and Tanja Shipman were among the team's strongest players. Members not only practice throughout the season but also during the year. The diligent work payed off with other steady winners as Holly Fridinger and Thao Luong.

All 1982 members are veteran team players. The team will lose only two members next year, though Coach Barrett is confident that the upcoming season will be another success!

Cross Country

The agony of defeat!

The Cross Country Team has decided that a cheerleading squad present at the meets would brighten the atmosphere. Cheerleaders or not, Coach Mahoney feels that the overall performance this season was not exceptional, though he does stress the outstanding performances displayed by several individuals and the upset victory over McLean.

Lack of depth was the major setback for the Cross Country Team. The gap between the first and fifth runners hindered the consistency of performance. The number of new members this year made fielding a full team very difficult, though this does not mean that every one did not put forth a great deal of effort and hard work. Coach Mahoney is pleased with the overall improvement and especially the performances of such members as Jeb Livingood, Rich Doleski, and Wendy Gerson. Jeb Livingood completed the season ranking 6th of the seven best runners in the district. Following closely, Rich Doleski was presented with the Sportmanship Award for his repeated excellent performance. Wendy Gerson, one of the few girls on the team, was elected as top female runner. Her efforts and dedication also contributed greatly to the team's overall achievement.

Other than the individuals that highlighted the season, there was also the upset victory over McLean. Earlier in the season, McLean had defeated Herndon. This loss did not hinder members from displaying an excellent performance. With their combined efforts the team finished with a well deserved victory.

Unfortunately, the team will lose seniors Jeb Livingood, Rich Doleski, and Matt Kell. However the extra year of practice and improvement will equip the team for a new season next year and maybe those cheerleaders rooting for our team will help alleviate the loss.

The Boys' and Girls' Indoor Track team, which has been steadily increasing in numbers, had another fine season this year. The team's record was 7-2, but because of mistakes the team finished 6th in the district meet.

Throughout the year and especially at districts many individuals performed well. At the district meet, Chris Chinn placed second in the 300 meter, Brian Braxton finished first in the triple jump while the 1600 meter relay team of Braxton, Don Baldwin, Chris Forrest and John Wells came in first. The highlight of the season came from the performances of Ernest Brunson. Brunson defended his district and regional titles in the 55 meter dash and then went on to win this event in State competition.

Representing the girls in district meet were Madelene Gordon, who placed third in the long jump and Sophie Haynie who came in fourth in the 55 meter hurdles. The girls' best performance came from Sheila Arries, who won the 300 meter event and placed third in the 55 meter dash.

Some of the other outstanding team members were Jeb Livingood, one and two mile; Mark Scyphers, two mile; Don Baldwin, 300 meter and mile; Kevin Newman, shot put; and Chris Impelliteri, 55 meter dash. For the girls Chris Benitez also had a fine season as a shot putter. The Indoor track team is coached by Mike Mahoney.

Like other members of the Indoor Track Team, Raleigh Neal runs through the halls, because of the poor weather.

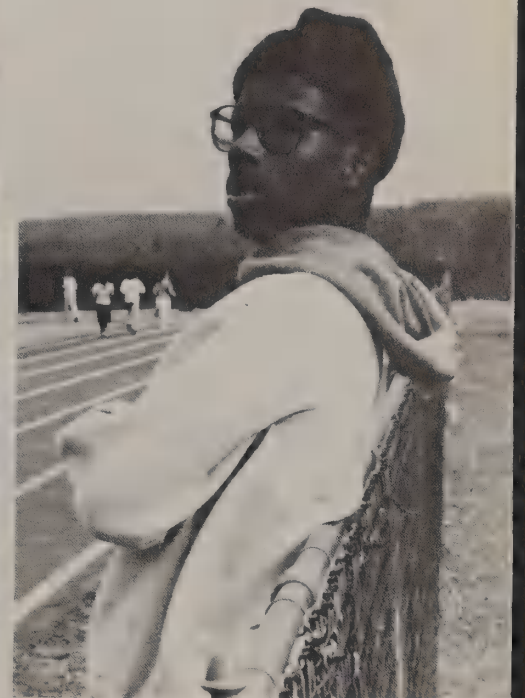

Spring Track

The Boys' Spring Track team had its first meet on March 22nd. The competitors were South Lakes (defending district champion) and Marshall. Following South Lakes as strongest competition is Yorktown. The forty boys were coached by Mr. Panagos (field events) and Mr. Mahoney (running events). The team featured athletes such as Anthony White and Ernest Brunson (State Champion, 55m). It is said that the team's strongest areas were in sprinting and triple jump.

Girls Spring Track: (alphabetical order), Melanie Alvord, Sheila Arries, Kimberly Ashwell, Cheryl Baldwin, Chris Benitez, Sharon Bernstein, Nancy Boyd, Nicole Buch, Larissa Chadwick, Zoe Cochran, Jo Lynn Conrad, Molly Curtin, Mary Durham, Holly Gems, Wendy Gerson, Laura Garcia, Teresa Gonzalez, Anita Harris, Kim Hewitt, Lorrie Jackson, Carrie Johnson, Deborah Linden, Mary Linden, Misty Lord, Tamara Martin, Caroline Mueller, Colleen Naylon, Lisa Nelson, Sarah New, Kathy O'Rourke, Ashley Phillips, Karen Sadd, Sybilla Scott, Tanja Shipman, Melissa Stewart, Brenda Stiles, Claudia Testa, Kim West, Leslie Whitener, Susan Witener, Virginia Wolf

Miss Ledane sees this year's Girls Spring Track season as an opportunity for development. Many freshman and new sophomores and juniors have joined the team. Several experienced upperclassmen have also returned for the new season. Sheila Aries, Tanja Shipman, and Leslie Whitener are among them.

From the general practices held due to inclement weather, Coach Ledane sees a great deal of potential. The most experience is in the shotput and discus with quality for development in jumping events. Herndon's stiffest competition in Girls Spring Track are Washington and Lee, Madison and South Lakes. Coach adds that our team has outstanding individuals, but lacks depth to be realistically competitive for the district title. With the combined efforts of Coach Ledane, Anne Goch, and the effort displayed by team members, Herndon should have a strong team next year.

This year the Varsity Wrestling team, coached by Mr. Hand, had it's finest season ever by winning the District tournament along with the District Championship Title.

The team posted a 9-1 record losing only to nondistrict opponent Fairfax by two points. The team also finished in first place at the Park View Christmas Tournament.

The Hornets had seven team members in the championship finale of the District tournament. Placing first for Herndon were 132 lb. A.J. Elias, 155 lb. Don Griffith and 176 lb. Todd Garvis. Finishing in second place were 119 lb. Billy Ruff, 167 lb. George Richey, 185 lb. Paul Williams and unlimited Marc Flicker. Paul Spears and Aladin El Tagi both finished in fourth place.

After Districts came the Regional Tournament. Don Griffith and Todd Garvis both became Regional Champions. A.J. Elias and George Richey also qualified for state competition. In the State Tournament Griffith lost in the finals by one point, thus finishing second. This was also the first match he had lost all season. George Richey took fifth place in state competition.

It would have been difficult for the Junior Varsity Wrestling team to top last year's undefeated season, but the team did manage to win it's last three matches against W-L, Langley and rival South Lakes to finish with a 6-4 record.

In the J.V. District Wrestling tournament, held at South Lakes, two Herndon wrestlers placed. David Ray, a junior, placed second while freshman Drew Brown finished third.

Varsity

Ricky Williams goes up for two points.

The Boys' Varsity Basketball team, coached by Steve Franklin and assistant coaches Bruce Butler and Barry Robeson, did not have as good a season as expected. This was due to injuries which occurred at mid-season. The most damaging of these was the injury to Pat Morrissey which kept him out for most of the regular season.

Herndon started its season off with a loss to Fairfax, but then went on to win its next eight games. Then came injuries and a five game losing streak. The team won three out of its last six games to finish with an 11-9 record overall and a 7-7 record in the district.

Senior Matt Sevcik led the team and was named to the All-District team as a forward. Among the other seniors who played well were Doug Allen, Robert Johnson, George Light, Ron Hall and Pat Morrissey.

Returning for next year's team will be Steve Saupe, Rick Williams, Ron Telleysh, Steve Gibson, Ron Ellison and Bo Pressley. The team will also be aided by an outstanding J.V. team.

John Finnerty, along with the rest of the team, listens to Coach Robeson during a time-out.

With the best J.V. record in Herndon High School history, the Junior Varsity basketball team finished the season with an impressive 17-3 record and a first place finish in the district.

Coached by Barry Robeson the team had a starting line up of Walter McLeod, Scott Sokol, Todd Heil, Mark Owens and Mark Gabriel. Adding depth to this line up were Edvar Bourne, Greg Stewart, Sean Wright, Tom Light, Paul Gates, John Finnerty and Mike Morrissey.

The team won nine games by margins of ten point or more. Four of these games were won by twenty or more points. The Hornets beat South Lakes at home by twenty points while the team's most sounding victory came at the hands of Madison, a team they beat by twenty-five points. Herndon finished the season with an eleven game winning streak.

The team's only district loss came from Langley. The Hornets were edged out by only two points. Herndon's other two losses were from non-district opponents Lee and Park View.

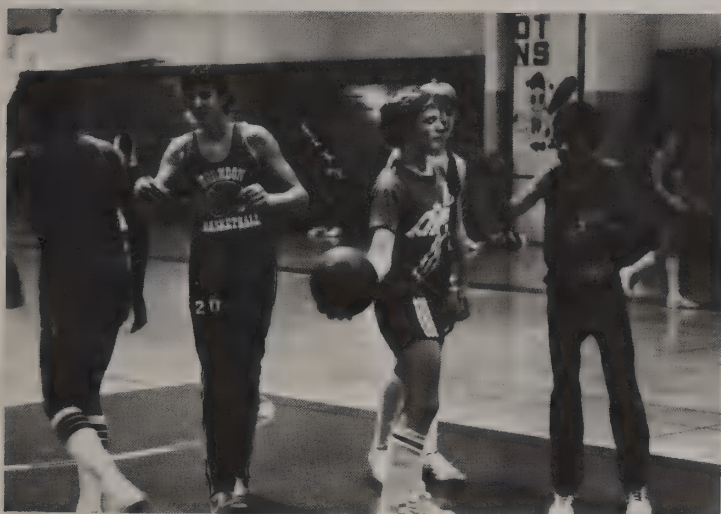

Look at Scott Sokol go for that rebound!!

Freshman Basketball

While many players may have experienced first game jitters, the Freshman Basketball team did manage to produce a respectable 7-7 record in the district and a 9-8 overall record.

The team's wins and losses were bunched into groups. Herndon lost the first two games, won the next three, lost two again, then won four in a row. The team went on to drop three, win two more and lose the final game to South Lake.

Coached by Russie Alexander, the team consisted of Paul Fleig, Kevin Gilmore, Tony Hudgins, Craig LeCesne, Andy Litlienthal, Keith Marine, Shane Masters, Gregg Mathews, Quinn Roland, Donell Tillman, Marcello Typrin and James Waters. Having gained much needed experience, these players will hopefully go on to have successful seasons on Herndon's J.V. and Varsity teams.

The Freshman Basketball team put in many long hours of practice, before the first game.

After successfully defending the district title and a win in the District Tournament, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team's season ended with an overtime loss to Robinson in the opening round of the Regional Tournament.

Stacy Cox and Beverly Wiggins were named as guards on the All-District team. With their outstanding shooting abilities, they helped lead the team to a 14-1 district record and an 18-3 overall record.

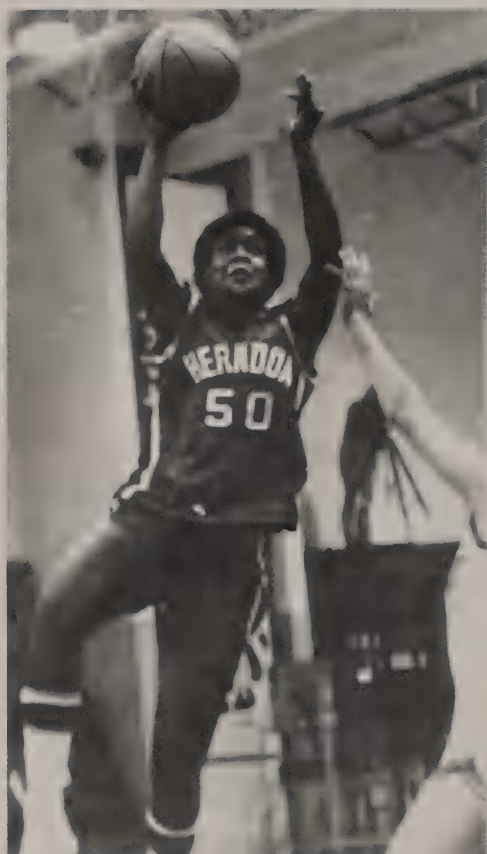

With only three losses, two coming in a special Christmas tournament held at George Mason Univ. and one against district opponent Marshall, the team had winning streaks of five, six and seven games.

Coached by Laura Beaver, the starting line up consisted of Beverly Wiggins and Stacy Cox at the guard positions, Angie Berry and Kim Gilmore as forwards and Mary Fleig at center.

Kim Gilmore one of the teams valuable juniors will be seen on court next year.

Girls' J.V. Basketball

With a district record of 9-5 and an overall record of 11-7, the J.V. Girls' Basketball team did not have as good a season as J.V. teams have had in the past. Comprised of freshmen and sophomores, the team members tried their best and played some good basketball. The team was led by Claire Schaeffer who had an outstanding season.

If Mr. Smith coaches swim team, then why is he in a boat and wearing a life preserver?

With wins over W & L, South Lakes, Charlottesville, Marshall and McLean, the Herndon Swimming and Diving team finished with a 5-3 record. To improve this record next year, the team will have to rely on its many young members.

Coached by Joe Smith, some of the swimmers and divers who will return next season are Lance Lehr, Tim Kirby, Tom Kercher, Nils Okeson, Dan Magill, Chris Ackerman, Kate Bunting, Val Griffith, Laura Lucas, Lisa Conway, Paige Smith, Mike Reser, Steve Bowman, Peter Gilbert and Virginia Wolf. Among the seniors who contributed to the team's fine season are Des Wilson, David Ackerman, Lars Okeson, Karl Hubach and Fran Defatta.

Rest, relax, and be merry, for this afternoon you may die. (Baseball practice is known for being a little rough)!

Coach Lee fixes The batting cage before practice

The Varsity Baseball Team is coached by Mr. Lee and Mr. Craig. The team is comprised of 15 members, mostly juniors and seniors. 4 players for Herndon a total of 3 years. March 29th will mark the first game to launch the new season.

Coach Craig feels that the team's strength lies in its pitching and inflied returns. A total of 18 games are played furing the season and it is apparent the senior members were especially looking forward to a successful outcome.

Coach McCulloch hoped for at least 10 wins out of a total of seventeen games that were played. The sophomore class represents the greatest number of members on the team. Last year the team tied Madison for first place in the district. Coach McCulloch sees the pitching as the team's strongest area though as a whole the team is very experienced.

Soccer

The Great Falls Varsity soccer district is most likely one of the most powerful in the state. Coach Mack says that each year the team is based on the leadership of the senior players. He feels that all his players are good. The team included Jon Wells (1st team All-District player) and David Petty (1st team All-District sweeper).

Herndon had a promising season. The team was made up of 21 players (10 seniors and 11 juniors) and had been practicing since Feb. 10. The first game took place March 30 against Mclean (District champions) Also a tough competitor is South Lakes. Each team in the Great Falls District is played twice. The team was very experienced in offense and defense. Coach Mack says, "In the end, our team's success comes down to what we believe possible. From there we merely work hard to leave as little as possible to chance."

Boy's Tennis

Irwin Rappaport and Dale Gatling were the Tennis team's four year veteran players and only seniors. The team was comprised of twelve members, most of whom were sophomores and freshmen. Coach Ashwell feels that the team's forte is in the depth between first and sixth players, though the competition against such top teams as Yorktown is stiff. Last year the team completed the season ranking third in the district. This, and the competitiveness of the team with steady winners in Irwin, Dale and Billy King assured a good season.

Golf Team

Four members of the Golf Team graduated last year, leaving Herndon with a young and inexperienced team. The twelve members that presently comprise the team will eventually be cut to eight or nine. The majority of players are sophomores and freshmen, though upperclassmen Mike Freeman, Grayson Hanes, and Pat Morrissey will be an asset. Only six members of the team represent the team at a tournament, and a total of twelve matches are played during the season. Unfortunately, the team did not have the opportunity to compete in its first scheduled tournament, due to inclement weather. Coach Whiten-er says that he hopes to make 1982 a rebuilding year, and to continue the tradition of having a winning season.

Golf Team Captains: Mike Freeman, Robert Love, Grayson Hanes, Pat Morrissey

"Oh wow, you got a birdie!"

Girls & Boys Gymnastics

As all forms of gymnastics the high bar takes long hours of practice, and that's what the gymnastic teams do. The boys meet at night, so they can use the gym. Many teams need the gym for practice, so the team was forced to meet at night.

Closing

If my life holds only what is absent
And snatches at grains of sand
Then now is just a memory
Slipping through my hand.

I see the light through shaded glasses
And darkness in the eyes behind,
Backwards always backwards
The twisted time unwinds.

In a room of broken crystal
Surrounded by a silver frame
I see eternity being born
And dying just the same.

M.T.S.

We must now say goodbye to a very special class, the class of 82.

You were the leaders, the seniors of 81-82. The underclassmen looked up to you as superiors and as models. The Junior class looked at you as friends, friends that we will never forget. It hurts to say goodbye after four years of being together and knowing that we will never be able to live another Monday morning or Friday night together like we did. But now you graduate and go on to college or work, but please remember us as we remember you, and could never forget!

Goodbye Class of 82
and Goodluck!
